[1] Koenig von Portugal 10th Aug^t 1841

D^r Ure Professor of Chemistry, F. R. S. Member of the Geological & Astronomical Societies of London Consulting Chemist to the British Government, &c^t presents his most respectful Compliments to Herr August Wilhelm von Schlegel. Having heard at the British Ambassador's table where he dined a few days ago, that the justly celebrated and much admired interpreter of Shakspeare's plays, and investigator of his genius, is now in Berlin, the D^r has [2] taken the liberty of soliciting permission to pay his personal homage to a poet, and philosopher who is dear to every Englishman. D^r Ure is here for only a few days to visit his scientific friends, and will be happy to wait upon M^r Schlegel at any hour tomorrow which he may be pleased to indicate - He carries with him, as the best Companion of his journey in Germany, the 9th volume of the German Shakspeare - Many of D^r Ure's works are translated into German, and one of them his Dictionary of Chemistry - [3] by two different translators - Geheimer rath Brandes of Hannover, and D^r Froriep of Weimar -

An answer will oblige -
